North Collins Public Library Is Presenting A Special Summer Reading Magic Show Open To The Community

North Collins Public Library is hosting a professional summer reading magic show, open to the community, on Wednesday June 20, 2018 at 6:00 PM, at the North Collins Public Library, located at 2095 School St North Collins, NY 14111 .

The show, titled “The Goofy Kooky Magic & Music Show,” is being used as part of the library’s efforts to encourage children to read more during the summer.

The magic show, presented by professional magician Cris Johnson, will feature music, age-appropriate humor, fun magic, audience participation, and more. The show is intended for children ages 4-12 and any fun-loving adults.

“This particular magic show is something different – it was designed to promote our summer reading program theme of ‘Libraries Rock!’,” Jacob Rachwal explains. “The show will feature magic themed around different aspects of music, a fun FREE magic trick for every child who attends, an amazing Music Race, and more!”

Why did magician Cris Johnson go to the trouble of creating an entire show around the 2018 Summer Reading Program theme? “I’ve been creating and presenting themed shows to libraries and schools across North America for nearly 20 years and it’s a passion of mine,” Cris explains. “With budget cuts increasing all the time, we as a community really need to support our local libraries, encourage children to read more, watch less TV, and protect our children’s future.”

Cris Johnson’s “The Goofy Kooky Magic & Music Show” will be presented on Wednesday June 20, 2018 at 6:00 PM at the North Collins Public Library, located at 2095 School St North Collins, NY 14111 and is intended for children ages 4-12 and any fun-loving adults. Admission is free, seating availability permitting.
